TOUCH, HOLD, CONNECT...

Ceramics for Contemplation & Connectivity

by greg vineyard

I am seeking the inherent beauty of the handmade touch, where we can see and feel fingermarks, grooves, bumps and ridges, and appreciate imperfections, whether they are real or perceived. I am finding that journey requires me to “DE-VOLVE”, which is a refreshingly welcome part of my process.

Whether you take home a meditation bowl (which can also be functional, but I prefer to let function be a serendipitous event), or a tile, box, vase or Communication Animal for yourself or as a gift, my hope is that each item is part of your experience with contemplation, reflection and connectivity, as well as your journey toward serenity, love and Light.

Peace, Greg
